New York Real Estate Agents Despondent—Facts and Figures.

Since the panic of 1873 real estate in New York City has been on the decline. Bottom pr.c. is were supposed to have been reached two years ago, one year ago, last spring, this fall; and yet it looks as far to the bottom as ever. The real estate business, as a business, is practically dead, and thousands of agents who made a comtertable living at it in the eight years following the war, have taken down their signs and drifted into other occupations.

"There's no such thing as a real estate business to be done," said one prominent agent to a Sun reporter yesterday, "I nave never seen such a hopeless state of things. Even in whit we used to call beat times property always brought something near its value. But now people won't take it as a gift. I believe, if all the property in the city above Fifty-minth street was sold at auction to-inorrow, the proceeds would not cover the mortgages on it. It is next to impossible to implie a contrainer.

A. Kattenbach, J. H. Ratterman and Miss Caroline S. Albrink, Jesse L. Ford and Miss Julia Conneil). Ed. Free and Miss Lucia Vanconey, Gus. Welfer and bout there are usually no offers whatcent since 18/2. When a sale is talked about there are usually no offers whatever, in spite of the fact that money does not now bring more than from 2 to 3½ per cent. Unless some still greater calamity comes, houses will continue to pay Sper cent of their present average valuation above all expenses. Yet capivaluation above an expenses. Let capi-talists hold on to their money.

It is almost impossible to sell second mortgages, a traffic which formed a part of the real estate agent's business in more prosperous times. So much prop-erty has lately been sold at foreclosure ared schools. The Committee on Supplies was instructed to supply the colored schools with a janitor. The Clerk gage, that the second mortgages are was instructed to distribute the war-garded as not worth the paper they cants for teachers' salaries for Decemrants for teachers' salaries for December on the 23d. Mr. Hackathorne, from the special committee, reported two lots picked out as suitable for sites for the adored schools—one on Sixth street, running through to Bremen street, and one on Twelfth street, near Trevor street.

the Sun reporter yesterday as worthy of notice, were the following: In the fall of 1872 four lots on Fifth avenue, near the Catholic Cathedral, were sold for $30,000 apiece, a price then considered quite moderate, miking $120,000; half of tuis was paid in casa, and $00,000 re-mained on bond and mortgage. The lots were bought as a speculation, and were never built upon. Last spring the origi-nal owners foreclosed this $60,000 morigage and took back their lots. The pur-chasers lost $60,000 in cash, besides the nterest on the mortgage for three years, about $4,200 a year, and the taxes amounting to $2,000 or $3,000 a year more It would not take many such operations to rule almost all 226 healers in vacant lots up town. Many and just struggling along, trying by every means in ther power to hold on until better times enable them to unload. In 1872 corner loss, 25 by 106, were seld on Finh avenue, opposite the Park, for $70,000 apiece. The same lots put up at aucti n now would barely bring $30,000. Houses on the avenue near Eignty fourth street, which were held in 1873 at $85,000 and $90,000, have been sold within the last year for as low as $35,000. For a year back seven-eights of the real estate sales made have been forestoners asks. made have been foreclosure sales. When asked if they can see better times ahead, the dealers only shake heirheads.-[New York Sun.

.... Down at a husking-bee near Liberty. Illinois, the other night, a young woman rammed her hand into the husks and hauled out a snake as long as a whip lash, and too cold to take much interest in the festivities. She fell over on her back and screamed and shricked until she was black in the face, but everbody thought she had only lound a red ear, and they laughed at her, while the snake got inside of her ruffl and crawled painfully and rheumatically down her back. She was understood at last, and the snake was dragged out and killed, but she says if she was to live a thousand years she couldn't scream half as much as she wants to.

The Young Navigators--- 11x16, $1.

Also a heautiful country scene. Four children, three girls and a boy, have left the distant house to play. Two are seated on the bank of the little lake, near the trunk of a picturesque old tree, and these act as spectators, while the other two, a boy and girl, are on their knees near the water, endeavoring to guide two little boats with sticks in their hands. The boy's boat is a full rigged sloon with sail spread; the girl's only a faint imitation of a boat, doubtle s the work of her own ### hands, being made of chips. A Country Stile -- 11x16, $1.

This is a view of a farm in the early summer. The house, almost hidden by foliage and surrounded by meadow land, is seen it the distance. In the foreground are four girls reposing upon and near the stile of the ol |fashioned kind. All have been gathering flowers, and one little girl is seated in the grass endeavoring to form a bouquet. A

The Darling Babe ... Ilx16, $1.

This is a companion piece of the English Cottage. It is a garden scene. In the foreground a young girl is contemplating, with fond affection, a sleeping infant in its cradle The friend and pet of the child, a beautiful cat, lies rolled up in sleep near by. The background shows a parterre of flowers and shrubpery of luxuriant growth, and also a large hish of fine ripe fruit. The expression and position of the young girl are so natural that one can almost fancy her words spoken, "The Darling Babe."

English Cottage--- 11x16, $1.

This picture represents the farmer's home to common in England. A plain, homely building, truly, yet suggestive of much com covered with the shade of grand old trees, and the foreground with abundance of flowers while roses in bloom almost hide the doorway and are trained high up in the root. House mtensils in common use are standing near the we I, and the mother of the family is drawing water from the well, with the daughter an her little charge, the infant of the family, and the sleek house cat sitting near as spectators

Wheeler & Wilson VICTORIOUS!

Again the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines triumph ever the world. The Centen vial Commission have officially appropried the awards, and decreed for the New Wheeler & Wilson Two DIPLOMAS OF HONOR AND TWO MEDALS OF MERIT. This is a double victory. and the highest award which it was in the power of the Centennial authorities to bestow. No other sewing Machine received such a recognition. More than thirty of the best proncers of machines in this and other countries entered for competition, and at Philade'phia in 1876, as at Vienna in 1873, and at Paris in 1807, Wheeler & Wilson lead the list. After a careful, rigorous, and exhaustive examina-tion, the judges unanimously decided that the superior excellence of these machines deserved more than one medal or diploms, and consequently, they recommended Two OF mously ratified the action of the judges, and the public will indorse the decision of these blest of mechanical experts. A claim of equally distinguished honor for any other ewing machine is only an attempt to hoodwink the people. Read the following, which stamps the "New Wheeler & Wilson" as the STANDARD SEWING MACHINE OF THE WORLD.

[From the Official Report ]

Awards to Wheeler & Wilson. 1. A Medal and Diploma for " New Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine," for the following reasons: "A Lock-atitch Sewing Machine unsurpassed in the fine workmanship of its parts, and possessing great originality, great adaptability to different classes of work both on cloth and leather, beauty of stitch, ease and rapidity of mostion, and completeness of dispiny."

2. A Medal and Diploma for "The New Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Macaine" for "Superior quality of work in Leather Stitching."

These New Machines embrace the elements of the original Wheeler & Wilson Machine, with important additions and variations, and liffer from other lock stitch Machines in having a Rotary Hook and Bobbin in part of the shuttle; an independent take-up; an automatic under tension; an improved form of feed, and a better distribution of parts.

The points of superiority of these Machines over other Lock-stitch Machines are very numerous and important.

1. The Rotary Hook is far easier, quieter and more rapid and certain in action than the vibrating shuttle, and hence produces a more regular and even stitch, and does far more work with less fatigue of the operator.

2. The Rotary Hook system is more durable and wears far less than the shuttle system, so that the saving in time and repairs soon equals the price of the machine. 3. The simple automatic under tention, or clamping of the lower thread while the "takeup" acts, enables the operator to regulate the lock of the two threads while the machine is in motion, by simply moving a lever, as can be done with no shuttle machine. 4. The independent take-up, which draws up the thread when the needle is out of the material, prevents the chafing of the thread between the needle and the material, and permits the use of so large a thread that the needle note is entirely filled, making a firmer To those Who Buy in Similar Quantities, and more boautiful stitch and a water-tight seam in water-proof goors, and as the stitch is drawn up, when the feed is not acting, the material is not " puckered," a point of especial importance in braiding, binding and general sewing, etc.; the rolling eyelet prevents the friction of the thread, and allows it to flow with uniform twist and evenness, and the tension or lock of the threads being properly ad-> passes from the thinnest to the thickest matarials, or vice versa, without variation. 5. The needle is set by simply placing tit ni position; the under thread is much more easily yound and arranged than with the shuttle machine; the bobbin is not threaded as is the shuttle, and being much larger requires filling less often, and permits the use of a cord in place of thread, which is important for many

> justed, the seam with any length of strich purposes. 6. The range of work with these machines is far greater than with any other, being on any material from the lightest gauze to the heav-

lest leather, with silk, linen or cotton thread. 7. The parts of these machines are perfectly interchangeable, and their form, distribution, balance and movement, secure not only the greatest durability and speed, with the least power, but also the greatest case and convenience of management, and their superior system, devices, material and workmanship constitute them the culmination of Sewing Mechanism and the standard Sewing Machines of the world.

USES OF THE PLACHINES .- Every king of stitching, from that required in the heaviest manufacturing to the lightest and most delicate possible, may be done to perfec-tion with the No. 6 Machine; but as there are certain purposes to which the No. 7 and the No. 8 are more especially suited by reason of size or form, some of the various kinds of work to which each machine is particularly adapted may be classified as follows:

FOR THE NO. 6 MACHINE-Boots and shoes, barness, saddles, carriage trimmings, patent leatner trimmings for harness, horse collars, traveling bags, trunk trimmings, canvas bags, pocket books, and beavy leather work generally.

FOR THE NO. 7 MACHINE-Tallor. ing of all kinds, suit making, cloaks, glovet blankets, dash boards, curtains and ever kind of work in heavy fabrics.

FOR THE NO. 8 MACHINE-Tailoring, all kinds of linen work, corsets, sairts, all kinds of ornamental braiding, overalls, shoe linings, hosiery, umbrellas, collars and cuffs, shirts, and general domestic work.

Either of these Machines is superior to there of any other system for stitching suspenders, and all kinds of rubber and oil cloth goods.
